

CDI copyright transfer agreement

The Authorised Author must complete this form. The Authorised Author is required to get agreement from all Authors of this submission, prior to signing on their behalf.

Where an employer of an Author holds intellectual property in the Article and the Authorised Author does not have authority to sign on their behalf, the employer or their authorised representative will also need to sign this form.

Article title*

Authorised author*

Authors*

All authors of the Article are jointly and severally referred to in this Agreement as “Authors”. The “Authorised Author” has been authorised by all Authors to sign this Agreement and to communicate with Communicable Diseases Intelligence (CDI) on behalf of all Authors. If the Article has only one author, then “Authors” and “Authorised Author” used herein is in reference to that author. If any Author’s portion of the Article was written in the course of employment for the Author’s employer(s) (as described below), a copy of this Agreement must be signed by, or on behalf of, his or her employer(s).

Warranties

1. The Authorised Author warrants:

- a. the Authors are the only author(s) of the Article;
- b. the Article is an original work and does not infringe the copyright or other rights, including moral rights, of any person;
- c. the Article is accurate and complete, and is not deceptive or misleading;
- d. if any person who is not an author of the Article has made a substantial contribution to the Article in any way, he or she is acknowledged in the Article;
- e. as at the date of signing this Agreement, the Authors own, or have a suitable licence or authorisation to, all intellectual property rights in the Article;
- f. as at the date of signing this Agreement, the Article has not been published anywhere in any form, and the Authors have not submitted the Article, or anything substantially similar to the Article, for publication elsewhere;

- g. the Authors have seen the Article, agree with its content and approve of its publication. The Authorised Author has obtained the written consent of all Authors to act on their behalf to make representations and enter into and be bound by the terms of this Agreement; and
- h. where the Authorised Author is authorised to sign this Agreement on behalf of their employer(s) or any other person, that he or she is authorised to do so and accept the obligations in this Agreement on behalf of their employer(s) or other person.

Assignment of copyright

- 2. If the Article is accepted for publication in Communicable Diseases Intelligence, then from the date of acceptance the Authors assign to the Commonwealth all copyright worldwide in the Article, without limitation. The Authors understand this means that from the date of acceptance they will no longer own any copyright in the Article, and the Commonwealth may, among other things, edit and publish the Article worldwide anywhere in any form, including electronic form and permit the use, reproduction and/or publication of the Article (or part of) by persons other than the Commonwealth, including under a Creative Commons licence.

Licence from Commonwealth

- 3. If the Article is accepted for publication in Communicable Diseases Intelligence, the Commonwealth in return grants to the Authors a permanent, irrevocable, royalty-free, non-exclusive licence to use, reproduce, adapt and exploit the Article worldwide.
- 4. The Authors acknowledge that section 177 of the Copyright Act 1968 has been brought to their attention.<sup>i</sup>
- 5. The Authors agree to do whatever the Commonwealth reasonably requires to give effect to the warranties, assignment, acknowledgment and authorisations in this Agreement, including to sign, execute or otherwise deal with any document.

Signing

- 6. This Agreement may be printed, signed and reuploaded.
- 7. The Authorised Author accepts the terms of this Agreement and signs this Agreement on behalf of themselves and on behalf of the Authors.
- 8. The Authors acknowledge that where the Article has been made in the course of employment and their employer(s) owns copyright in the Article, the employer(s) must sign this Agreement. The employer has the same rights and obligations and provides the same warranties and rights as the Authors under this Agreement. Where the Authorised Author is authorised to sign this Agreement on behalf of their employer(s), he or she accepts the terms of this Agreement and signs on their behalf where indicated.

Australian Privacy Principle 5 Acknowledgement

Collection of Authors' personal information

Your personal information is protected by law, including the Privacy Act 1988 and the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs), and is being collected by the Australian Government Department of Health and Aged Care ('Department') for the purposes of allowing us to publish the Article in the journal Communicable Diseases Intelligence.

If you do not provide your personal information as the Author, the Department will be unable to publish the Article.

The Department will disclose your name and the name of your university/institution in the Article to Crossref, Portico and PubMed in the United States of America to facilitate the cross referencing of the Article.

Ordinarily the Department is required to comply with APP 8.1 by taking reasonable steps to ensure that overseas recipients of personal information, such as Crossref, Portico and PubMed, do not breach the APPs. However, the Department will not be required to comply with APP 8.1 if the Authors consent to the Department's disclosure of their personal information to Crossref, Portico and PubMed. This means the Department will not be responsible if those overseas recipients do an act that would otherwise breach the APPs.

"Subject to this Part and to Part X, the Commonwealth or a State is the owner of the copyright in an original literary, dramatic, musical or artistic work first published in Australia if first published by, or under the direction or control of, the Commonwealth or the State, as the case may be."

I consent to the Department disclosing my name and affiliation to Crossref, PubMed and Portico in the United States of America to facilitate the cross referencing of the Article; and

As the Authorised Author for this submission, I confirm that I have obtained consent from all authors of this submission for their personal information being collected by the Department for the purposes of publishing the Article in CDI. I confirm all authors of the Article consent to the Department disclosing their name, their affiliation(s) and the Article to Crossref, Portico and PubMed in the United States of America to facilitate the cross referencing of the Article and all authors are aware the Department will not be responsible if those overseas recipients do an act that would otherwise breach the Australian Privacy Principles (APP 8.1).
